Summer Challenge

Over the summer holiday you will need to complete a task and some reading which will help you to prepare for your A Level course.

What do I need to do?

- Pick EITHER one book or one journal article from the list.
- Then, pick EITHER one film or one current TV programme.
- For each, create a short fact file reviewing the book/article and the film/TV programme:
  - What did you learn from it? What quotes were particularly interesting? Why?
  - What links the film/programme to Sociological ideas? (think power, class, socialization, nature/nurture)

Summer task: Action Research and observation
Visit a busy public place (e.g. High street, train station, Covent Garden). Position yourself to sit and take notes on the activities of those around you. Be prepared to feed back your observations. Your observation should take a minimum of an hour.

Ones to read a chapter from:

The Presentation of Self in Everyday Life
Erving Goffman (1990)

Das Capital, Karl Marx

Postmodernity, D.Lyon (1994)

Outsiders, Howard Becker (Crime and Deviance)

Thinking Sociologically, Zygmunt Bauman
